

Bezpečnostná politika štátu

Security Policy of the State

Course Security Policy of the state will provide students with basic introduction to the field of security studies, exploring the basic analytical issues from the area of security studies, evolution of international security agenda, theoretical approaches, and actors in security relations and providing students with a brief overview of major security threats and challenges of contemporary security agenda for the state.